

Week 1- Teacher Message from Mrs. Ramirez

Hello families and students! I hope that you are staying healthy and enjoying quality time with one another during these uncertain times. We want to provide you with some learning resources for while you are at home. These activities you can try out and see if you like, they are optional and will not be graded.

I look forward to communicating with you weekly, please do not hesitate to reach out on my personal email or other communication (ClassDojo). I would love to write letters to each child, so be on the lookout for those over the next few weeks. If students want to reply they can! I am here to support you with whatever you may need!

Overview of Activities:

Reading- Reading about the NorthWest Coastal tribes and having a discussion about the reading with questions.

Writing- Students love MadLibs, it is a fun way to practice understanding adjectives, nouns, plural nouns, and other parts of speech.

Social Studies- Students can learn about long canoes and make an origami canoe, following along with a video.

Math- Students can go on a math scavenger walk or search for these things around the house. Find things with symmetry, angles, length, shapes, and be engaged in math together! :)

Looking forward to continued communication through this time, elysa.ramirezzelada@rentonschools.us

With love,
Mrs. Ramirez
